TWENTY-NINTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

OCTOBER 18, 2015

God's salvation work is the focus of this Sunday's readings. From the prophetic event of Isaiah, to Jesus' understanding of the human condition in Hebrews, to Jesus paying our ransom in Mark, God is in control. There may be failings and misunderstandings along the way. We may move away from God, but God always leads us back. Like James and John, we may let greed and power blur our vision of the kingdom, but tirelessly Jesus teaches us again and again what life in God's kingdom will be. Jesus has paid our ransom to insure that we will have a share with him in the kingdom.

It is not unusual to think of Jesus' ransom as a punishment he endured. However, it is more accurate, and more like Jesus, for us to recognize ransom as God's gift to us.

BEING LOVING SERVANTS

How many times do we notice someone getting a better break than we do? Whether we cry "foul" in our minds or speak out loud, we want our fair share. We're not much different from James and John. But as Jesus taught them, loving service is the sure way to share in the kingdom. Try not to think big when you look for ways to serve this week. Some of the best opportunities for service come in the ordinariness of our lives. Spending time with someone, being respectful to all the people in our lives, lending a hand even when it's "not our job," these are all quiet opportunities to live lives of service.

Today's Readings: Is 53:10-11, Ps 33:4-5, 18-20, 22; Heb 4:14-16, Mk 10:35-45 [42-45]
