THIRTY-SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

NOVEMBER 8, 2015

The core vocation in the Gospel of Mark is the vocation, or call, to discipleship. Today's Gospel passage provides us with one last example of what the vocation to discipleship means, and one example of what it doesn't mean. A destitute widow shows us that discipleship means following Jesus' way of service, even if it requires giving one's livelihood (or life). The scribes show us by their bad example that discipleship should entail a vocation to extend God's care to those who are most in need.

In our reading from the book of Kings another widow and her son are close to death. They, too, give what little they have, but they are rewarded by Elijah with food enough for a year. And the reading from the Letter to the Hebrews reminds us that Jesus sacrificed his life "to bring salvation to those who eagerly await him" (Hebrews 9:28).

"SHE CONTRIBUTED ALL SHE HAD"

Throughout the year we have seen in Mark's Gospel a pervading focus on the meaning and cost of discipleship. It is our core vocation as Christians to follow Jesus' way of loving service, and accept whatever sacrifices or suffering that may entail. In today's Gospel reading a destitute widow acts as a Christ-like figure to show us the extremes to which our Christian vocation may lead us. Like Jesus, the widow contributes "her whole livelihood" (her life?) in sacrifice to God (Mark 12:44). We see, however, that she is receiving nothing to make her sacrifice worthwhile. The scribes are taking advantage of her, and God will not be pleased.

Unlike the widow, Jesus' sacrifice brought eternal reward to him and to all humankind. Our Christian vocation calls us to give our lives as Jesus did. We give, not in hope of being rewarded, but in thanksgiving for the gift already given—the salvation and loving kindness shown to us in the sacrifice of Jesus Christ. We give knowing that we may face suffering, as Jesus did, but trusting that God will respond in mercy and love. Today's Readings: 1 Kgs 17:10-16; Ps 146:7-10; Heb 9:24-28; Mk 12:38-44 [41-44] (Worship Pgs: 1203)
